INTRODUCTION

I am a healthcare professional with a certification in athletic training and degree in athletic administration. A majority of my career has been specifically based in sports medicine, but as a former athlete my passion is centered around healthy living, transformational coaching, and the promotion of value-based athletics programs. I have enjoyed the relationship-building aspect of working for a university and engaging with student-athletes, colleagues, and administration every day. Being energetic, goal-oriented, and compassionate has been significant in creating a welcoming environment for those who walk through my doorway.
